

IN THE SPECIFICATION

Please, substitute the current specification with the enclosed substitute specification. The substitute specification does not include any new matter, but the changes made are only for the purposes of clarifying the application. Enclosed is a clean copy of the substitute specification as well as a marked up copy.

Please, amend the specification also with the sequence listing enclosed herein. The listing does not add any new matter, but simply lists the sequences disclosed in the original application. The sequence listing is provided on paper as well as on a computer readable diskette. The information on the diskette is exactly the same as on the computer readable diskette.